Courtney's Reflection

Today we hear the parable of the kingdom of Heaven being like a landowner. Right from the start of this parable we are challenged to think differently about heaven. We are often used to being taught, as were the disciples at the time, that the kingdom of heaven is like the venturing to meet us where we are. No matter the time in our life, God sees the value in us! God pours out his love endlessly regardless of what we think we deserve. God wants us to know him and know our worth through him. God will rejoice and share His kingdom with those vineyard. Today we are challenged to set aside our human nature and limited understanding of justice. We are called to ponder just how generous our God is. Jesus is trying to help us understand that His Father, Our Father, always sees value in Us! When the landowner kept venturing into the marketplace, it is God our abundantly generous Father, that choose Him. Take a moment to pause, listen, and ponder just how generous God is in your life.

God Sees you, God Wants you, God Blesses you!

All God's Generous Blessings,
Courtney

OUR PARISHIONERS

Baptism

Our Community joyfully welcomes to
St. Jude Parish
through the living waters of baptism:

Juliet Rose, daughter of Michael & Cecilia Marx

Tristan Alexander, son of Brady & Jayne Schneider

*Take these little ones dear Father into your arms.
Cover and protect them, guide them from all harm.
Fill their days with love and joy, nurture all they are.*

Welcome to the faith little ones!

Why Do We Do That?

Ever wonder what the words, gestures, and rituals of Mass are all about? Keep an eye on this space each week! This week's question:

Q. Why are the Eucharistic vessels washed during Mass, right after communion?

A. When Communion has been distributed, the vessels are returned to the altar, and there is the practical necessity of clearing up. Naturally the first concern is for the remains of the Sacred Species. The remaining small Hosts are collected into one ciborium, which is veiled and returned to the tabernacle. All attention should be on the priest who is doing this, and all in the sanctuary kneel until the doors of the tabernacle have closed, for this is Jesus Christ himself passing from our sight, just as he did at the Ascension.

If Communion has been distributed under both kinds, the Precious Blood remaining in the chalices must be consumed. The paten, ciborium, and chalice must then be cleansed. Tiny particles of the Sacred Host and drops of the Precious Blood remain, and must be consumed. Traditionally, a chalice is rinsed twice, both rinsings, or ablutions, being drunk by the priest.

The ablutions are practical and necessary but also symbolic. They are also known as the purifications, in a curious reversal of normal usage that the Church delights in. The sacred vessels have been holding the Body and Blood of our Lord; they have therefore become holy, taken out of ordinary use and made over to God, and cannot come into contact with anything secular. To bring them down to earth as it were, to make it possible to polish them, wrap them up and put them away, they must be ritually "purified." It is not that they are not pure but rather the opposite; they are too holy to touch and need to be brought into the common world again.

Adapted from Fr. Francis Randolph, Know Him in the Breaking of the Bread

Should I get baptized?
Should I be confirmed in the Catholic Church?*

Contact Rob Saley today for more information about our St. Jude parish adult initiation program ... starting at the beginning of October!

This program might be for YOU—or for a friend or family member who has never been baptized or never been confirmed Catholic ... And it doesn't matter if you are new to the parish, or have been thinking about it for a long time.

If you are a couple preparing for marriage, or if you're already married and one spouse isn't baptized or confirmed, consider and pray about whether now would be the time to explore and maybe commit to the Catholic faith more deeply.

In our St. Jude adult initiation program, you'll have the opportunity to:

  - Explore how to grow closer to Jesus through different forms of prayer and approaches to spirituality
- Discuss your questions about your faith in a safe, non-judgmental environment

FALL BIBLE STUDY

God Is a Man of War:
The Problem of Violence in the Old Testament

By Fr. Stephen De Young

Mondays, 8:30–10:00 am • Leannah Hall
Begins October 2 • Ends November 13

$11

Join us for a study that explores one of the most challenging parts of our faith—the problem of violence in the Old Testament.

Together we will read and discuss God Is a Man of War, a book that offers a fresh interpretation of Old Testament accounts of violence by exploring them through the twofold lens of Christian tradition and historical context. Eastern Orthodox priest Father Stephen

De Young examines what these difficult passages reveal about the nature of Christ and His creation, bearing witness to a world filled not only with pain and suffering—often of human making—but also with the love of God.

To register for the study, or if you just want to order a copy of the book, contact Rob Saley at the Parish Office: (920) 235-7412 • rsaley@stjudeoshkosh.org.

Cookbook Proofreaders Needed!
