R'observations

Dear Friends—

Have you ever wondered: Why did the wise men, the magi, leave their homes in the east to go in search of the “newborn king of the Jews”?

On the one hand, the answer is obvious: They observed the star, and decided to follow it. But surely others observed the star? Why would the only ones who followed it be these magi?

Well, “magi” comes from the same Greek word as “magic,” and magic was the magi’s business. In the ancient world, there were many practitioners of magic, meaning fortune-telling, the casting of spells, astrology, and so on. And back then, no one doubted that this magic was real and effective. Ancient Christian tradition, however (and ancient Jewish tradition as well), never trusted those who practiced magic. Magic, according to the Church Fathers, was ultimately based on the invocation of evil spirits. Magic was effective because it was a tool used by these evil spirits. They responded to magi in order to tempt people to take control of their lives rather than relying on the care of their loving Creator. But Christians should humbly trust in Jesus rather than in our own power to manipulate spirits.

The connection between ancient magic and the influence of evil spirits might explain why the magi were on the lookout for the star that led them to Jesus. Luke, in his Gospel, tells us that at the birth of Jesus, “a multitude of the heavenly host” appeared (Lk 2:13). One ancient Christian writer, Origen, wrote that the presence of these angelic spirits, along with the infant Son of God himself, was enough to drive away the evil spirits who were the source of magical power. And so, at the birth of Jesus, the magi’s magic ceased to work for them. It was this loss of control that led them to search for something more powerful than their magic. That search ultimately resulted in their discovery of the star that led them to Jesus, the one who was powerful enough to neutralize their magic.

This year we celebrate Epiphany on the first Sunday of the New Year. The New Year ... a time to reflect on how our lives are going, and what changes we might want to make going forward. The magi can perhaps be an example for us in this regard. What “magic” no longer works for me? What influences do I call upon that maybe aren’t working for me as well as they used to—food, alcohol, sports, entertainment? In what areas of my life do I try to take control of things, rather than trusting in the loving care of God? It can be painful to face up to these things, but can also lead us to search for and find a deeper relationship with our savior Jesus.

May God pour out his holy Spirit upon you and your families abundantly in the coming year!

In Christ,
Rob

On Friday, December 29, the Holy Eucharist was stolen from the Adoration Chapel located at 605 Merritt Ave

Prayer cards are available in the pews for you to take home—we ask that you pray this prayer daily, asking God for his forgiveness and for the conversion of the person or persons who committed this grave act of sacrilege. Additionally, those who are able to are invited to offer a fast for a day in reparation for this sin.

Due to this situation the Oshkosh Adoration Chapel will remain closed until the investigation is complete and a security solution is identified.

Something awesome is continuing in Oshkosh beginning January 17th... the ninth year of That Man Is You!

That Man Is You is a men's program focused on the development of men in the modern world. It combines Scripture, solid research and a little fun to help men become authentic leaders capable of transforming themselves, their families and greater society.

This year's title is "Worthy of the Call" and builds on the incredible success of the first eight years of That Man Is You. Yet, anyone can begin at Year Nine without having first attended the previous years! And, this year's new Spring program features seven dynamic speakers!

This all-city, all-Parishes program is held, in-person, on Wednesday Mornings from 5:30 – 7:00 a.m. at St. Jude the Apostle Parish – Sacred Heart site in Leannah Hall beginning on January 17th. There is also the option of watching the week's video presentation online, at your leisure, and attending a virtual (Zoom) small group session from 7:00 a.m. to 7:30 a.m. on Wednesday mornings. AND—there is no homework, you can miss any sessions when necessary, and there is no fee!

You can get more information and register through the Parish office, at one of the sessions, or by calling Bruce at 920-231-3527.

Men, join TMII to "Become A Man After God's Own Heart" and be "Worthy of the Call!"
